Act

IN CRIMINAL MATTERS, PROCEEDS OF CRIME,
FINANCIAL INTELLIGENCE UNIT OF TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, CUSTOMS AND EXCHANGE CONTROL)
BILL, 2017

Explanatory Notes

(These notes form no part of the Bill but are intended only to indicate its general purport)

The Bill seeks to amend the Mutual Assistance in Criminal Matters Act, Chap. 11:24, the Proceeds of Crime Act, Chap. 11:27, the Financial Intelligence Unit of Trinidad and Tobago Act, Chap. 72:01, the Customs Act, Chap. 78:01, the Exchange Control Act, Chap. 79:50 and contains six clauses.

Clause 1 of the Bill would provide the short title of the Bill.

Clause 2 of the Bill would amend the Mutual Assistance in Criminal Matters Act by deleting section 22(2)(k), which empowers the Central Authority to refuse a request that relates to a criminal offence under the tax laws of a Commonwealth country.

Clause 3 of the Bill would seek to make the prosecution for offences under the Act simpler. The Proceeds of Crime Act is therefore amended in section 44(2), by deleting subsection (2), which provides that money laundering is an indictable offence. The clause goes on to amend section 53(1), by deleting the existing penalties for money laundering and substituting new penalties for the offence which would make the offence triable both on summary conviction and on indictment.

Clause 4 of the Bill would amend the Financial Intelligence Unit of Trinidad and Tobago Act in section 2 in the definition of “Egmont Group” to provide that the Egmont Group means that group of Financial Intelligence Units which subscribe to the Egmont Group Statement of Purpose and its Principles for Information Exchange Between Financial Intelligence Units for Money Laundering and Terrorism Financing Cases.

Section 8(3) of the Act is being amended to empower the Financial Intelligence Unit (hereinafter referred to as “the FIU”) to—

- (a) collect information as required for tactical and strategic analysis in order to generate trends and typologies; and

- (b) disseminate financial intelligence information to local and foreign authorities on their own motion or upon request.

Section 17 of the Financial Intelligence Unit of Trinidad and Tobago Act is also being amended to require the FIU to publish by Notices in the Gazette and in two newspapers in daily circulation in Trinidad and Tobago a list of the countries identified by—

- (a) the Financial Action Task Force, as non-compliant or not sufficiently compliant with its recommendations as jurisdictions that have strategic anti-money laundering and counter financing of terrorism deficiencies; and
- (b) an FSRB as having strategic anti-money-laundering and terrorist financing deficiencies.

Section 18G of the Financial Intelligence Unit of Trinidad and Tobago Act is also being amended to include new subsections (2A) to (2E) which would require any person to provide to the FIU any documents, information or explanation on any information, provide for a warrant under subsection (2) to include a requirement to provide a police officer with any information or explanation on any information, make it an offence to obstruct a police officer in the execution of his duties and to knowingly give false or misleading information to a police officer and to protect individuals from self-incrimination.

The clause also seek to amend section 27 of the Financial Intelligence Unit of Trinidad and Tobago Act, by providing a general penalty for contravention of Regulations made under the Act.

Finally, the clause would seek to amend the Financial Intelligence Unit of Trinidad and Tobago Regulations, in regulation 19(1), to allow the Director of the FIU to disseminate financial intelligence to local authorities and enforcement agencies on his own motion or upon request. Regulation 26(1)(d)(ii) would be amended to allow the FIU to provide financial institutions, listed businesses and other public or private bodies with reports on the current techniques, methods and trends or typologies and examples of financing of terrorism cases. Regulation 28(1) would be amended to provide that the form for the registration of a supervised entity shall be approved by the FIU. Regulations 29 and 29A, are being amended to shorten the time period for notifying the FIU of a change in registered office of a supervised entity or of a change in Directors, Owners, Partners or Compliance officers respectively from six months to thirty days. Finally, the Schedule to the Regulations which contained a prescribed form as the FIU is now being permitted to develop its own forms and thereby make changes when required.

Clause 5 of the Bill would seek to amend the Customs Act in section 2, to delete the definition of “waters of Trinidad and Tobago” and substituting a new definition that defines the “waters of Trinidad and Tobago” as the territorial sea in accordance with section 3 of the Territorial Sea Act. The clause would go in section 23 to now empower the Comptroller of Customs to adjust the value of goods accepted by an Officer, within four years from the date of entry of the goods. Section 23 of the Customs Act would be amended to insert a new subsection (2B) which would give the Comptroller of Customs the power to detain subsequent shipments of an importer, where an adjustment is made to the value of his goods and he has not paid the adjustment and fails to commence proceedings before the Appeal Board within six months from the date of notification. Section 45 of the Act is also being amended to include firearms and certain firearms accessories as goods prohibited from importation into Trinidad and Tobago except with the permission of the Commissioner of Police. However, the prohibition would not apply to the holders of Firearm Users’ Licence.

The clause would also seek to amend section 228(4) of the Act, to make it an offence for an importer or exporter to neglect or refuse to provide certain documents required under the Act or to subscribe to a declaration as required by the Act. The clause goes on to insert a new section 259, which would empower the Minister to declare by Order that a treaty entered into between Trinidad and Tobago and another territory in relation to the provision of mutual assistance between or amongst Customs Administrations shall have the force of law in Trinidad and Tobago with limitations, conditions, exceptions or qualifications as required, and only where the treaty provides for the determination by either party to the Treaty.

Finally, the clause would introduce a new section 274A which would require every importer, exporter, agent, customs broker, customs clerk, warehouse-keeper or operator of a port, transit shed or sufferance wharf, conducting transactions under the Act or any other Customs law, to keep or cause to be kept all books, records, documents and any other information relating to the transaction for certain periods of time from the date the goods entered or were exported, and to make those books available to the Comptroller.

Clause 6 of the Bill would amend the Exchange Control Act in section 2, by inserting a definition of “bearer negotiable instrument”. The clause goes on in section 22, to restrict the importation of any bearer negotiable instrument into Trinidad and Tobago without the permission of the Central Bank. The clause goes on to amend section 23, to restrict the exportation of any bearer negotiable instrument from Trinidad and Tobago without the permission of the Bank. Finally, the clause would amend the Exchange Control (Import and Export) Order, 1993—

- (a) in clause 3, by inserting new subclauses (5), (6), (7) and (8) to exempt from section 22(1)(c) of the Act the importation into Trinidad and Tobago of bearer negotiable instruments brought in, or on the person or in the baggage of a traveller to the extent of twenty thousand Trinidad and Tobago dollars or five thousand United States dollars currency in value, and where it exceeds that value, to exempt the importation where a declaration is made to the Comptroller in respect of the amount exceeding twenty thousand Trinidad and Tobago dollars or five thousand United States dollars currency in value;
- (b) in clause 4, by inserting new subclauses (3) and (4), to exempt from section 22(1)(c) of the Act, the exportation of bearer negotiable instruments on the person or in the baggage of a traveller where the amount is to the extent of twenty thousand Trinidad and Tobago dollars or five thousand United States dollars currency in value, and where it exceeds that value, to exempt the exportation where a declaration is made to the Comptroller in respect of the amount exceeding twenty thousand Trinidad and Tobago dollars or five thousand United States dollars currency in value; and
- (c) in clause 5, to provide for bearer negotiable instruments expressed other than in Trinidad and Tobago or United States currency in value to be calculated at a rate determined by the Central Bank on the day on which they are to be imported or exported and where the rate is not readily ascertainable, at a rate to be determined by the Central Bank.
